

Community spring into action to help tidy up their corner of the town

As part of the nationwide The Big Tidy Up initiative, Lincolnshire based housing association Acis Group organised two action days at Park Springs in Gainsborough. Weeding and litter picks were carried out on garage areas, footpaths and green spaces.

Local residents were asked to volunteer to help out during the action days with the aim of working together for cleaner, greener places. Children helping out on either of the days were given a reward of a go karting trip. A good turnout was present on both days, which took place on Wednesday 28th and Thursday 29th October, starting out from the Park Springs Community Centre. Acis worked in partnership with Lincolnshire Police and Continental Landscapes on the project. The Acis clearance team were also on hand during both action days.

Jo McLaughlin of Acis commented;

“The action days proved to be a popular project and the help from local volunteers was fantastic. It shows the great community spirit that the area has with many people chipping in to do their bit. Lots of positive feedback was received from residents who are very impressed with how the area now looks.”

To find out more about The Big Tidy Up initiative visit www.thebigtidyup.org. The Big Tidy Up campaign is part of the Keep Britain Tidy environmental charity.