

Gillian Wing

Gillian Wing has over 20 years experience as a senior manager working in both operational and strategic roles, primarily in the public sector.

She has successfully managed both small teams and large workforces - up to 750 staff. The latter was as Chief Executive of an NHS Trust providing services for people with learning disabilities.

Gillian has a background of strategic experience through board level positions in addition to her previous experience as a Chief Executive. This was as a Trustee of the charity New Ways to Work, and as a school governor. She is currently a Non Executive Director with the Lincolnshire Teaching Primary Care Trust and with the South Holland Citizens Advice Bureau.

Since 2000, Gillian has pursued her interests in organisation development, change management and service excellence as an independent consultant working with clients in the private, public and third sectors.

Gillian has lived and worked in Lincolnshire for over 30 years and joined the Acis Board in 2008.
