

Acis extends portfolio

Gainsborough based housing association Acis Group recently extended their portfolio by welcoming an additional 10 tenanted properties into their housing stock.

Acis, who own and manage over 5,000 homes across Lincolnshire, Nottinghamshire and South Yorkshire, took over the properties in Holdingham just outside Sleaford from housing association Raglan in December.

The properties consist of two bedroom houses and are a good geographical fit for the company, as a brand new development of 72 mixed tenure Acis homes is near completion in Sleaford, south of Lincoln.

Phil Whitehead, Operations Manager (Neighbourhoods) for Acis, said:

“We are progressing with our growth strategy by welcoming new properties and their tenants into the Acis family. In developing our portfolio we take into consideration the changing markets in which we operate and the needs of our customers. Our latest acquisition further increases the number of properties we manage in the Sleaford area and brings the total increase in our portfolio to 134 properties during this financial year.”
